

NASCENT II

The town has the atmosphere of the Middle Ages, advancing toward the South. Surrounding it are rich green mountains and beautifully settled towns, naturally enclosed. On the cutting edge of the cape lies a more beautiful villa. It is a fortress built by the Celts in the 6th century BC, that was popular from the ancient Roman town. The park of the villa adjacent to the crystal location suggests both a great old lake and steep cliffs. It seems a town of paradise. There are residences that have surpassed the lake gardens, sculptures and nice spaces that not only look good inside.

Rare species of full flowers from around the world, beautiful plants in summer. On a pleasant stroll one can enjoy an exceptional landscape like in a winter resort. Winter is covered under a gray sullen sky, air like piercing coldness. Nostalgia. Time leads deeper and deeper into another world in a flow of mist. 50 years ago, in the dark phase of life time, originating from the town at the end of the lake, was born the most beautiful bright pink one can imagine. Its color is deeply fascinating. The town is the origin of color.
