

Petal storm

THORN, which is known as beautiful white town (Villa Blanche). Red geranium in all is still in the street, contrast between red brick and pure white is a superb view. Going toward APELDOORN with a feeling of dignity of history. Pass through a forest there is a baroque style palace but looking like the Renaissance. The interior is dark and profound colouring, moreover you often find Blue & White of Imari ware from Japan and Jingdezhen from china which made influence the Dutch boasts Delft ware.

In geometrical Baroque style garden, you can catch glimpse of amazing blooming flowers' history in seventeenth century.

The picture of golden age had been praised in high.

Propose wide-ranging to an enduring base that defined social cultural heritage, as related and described power from adversity on self-esteem in all respect.

The point of this season's collection is print, colour and soft volume, and then expressing the originality. White dress of constructive drape is impressed.

Material and shape of dress are the theme of unchanging as a timeless clothe.

Feminine personality rather than season fashion will be the mainstream.

Sticking to material, colour and handwork finishing make more feminine and delicate redefine the concept for fashion.