

PROVENANCE

表裏一体 / Two different angles

When I think of the image of that woman in the painting somehow I feel a sense of pathos, even though she is beautifully depicted.

In the same way, if we look back through the annals of history we can see how everything can be viewed from two different angles.

This collection is stimulated by the essence of creativity and presents two concept lines, namely the Form line and the Conscious line.

The Form line offers variation with a dress remodeled into a tube shape, corsages and other accessories, and a drape-on-drape dress with a circle pattern. The Conscious line offers a long silk dress which savors the gentle flow of the material.

Our unique policy caters to the day-to-day challenges of dressing to suit the time, place and occasion. These outfits offer beauty through simplicity, a sense of unity, comfort and refinement for the free-spirited woman.
